1. This Act may be cited as the Extradition (Contiguous and Foreign Countries) Act.

2. (1) In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires—

“conviction” and “convicted” do not include or refer to a conviction which under the law of some other country is a conviction for contumacy, but the term “accused person” includes a person convicted of contumacy;

“extradition crime” means a crime which, if committed within the jurisdiction of Kenya, would be one of the crimes described in the Schedule;

“fugitive criminal” means any person accused or convicted of an extradition crime committed within the jurisdiction of any other country who is in or is suspected of being in Kenya, and a reference to a fugitive criminal of a country is a reference to a fugitive criminal accused or convicted of an extradition crime committed within the jurisdiction of that country;

“magistrate” means a chief magistrate, a senior principal magistrate, a principal magistrate, a senior resident magistrate or a resident magistrate;

“warrant” in the case of any other country includes any judicial document authorizing the arrest of a person accused or convicted of a crime.

(2) If any fugitive criminal or other person is arrested in pursuance of the provisions of this Act and brought before a magistrate who has no power to exercise jurisdiction under this Act, that magistrate shall have power to order such person to be brought before some magistrate having such jurisdiction, and to remand or admit such person to bail, and effect shall be given to any such order.

PART II—SURRENDER OF FUGITIVE CRIMINALS

3. (1) Where an agreement has been made with any country other than a designated Commonwealth country within the meaning of the Extradition (Commonwealth Countries) Act, with respect to the surrender to that country of any fugitive criminal, the Minister may, by order published in the Gazette, declare that this Part shall apply in the case of that country subject to such conditions, exceptions and qualifications as may be specified in the order, and this Part shall apply accordingly.

Application of Part.
65 of 1968, s. 19.
Cap. 77.

(2) An order made under this section shall recite or embody the terms of the agreement and shall not remain in force for any longer period than the agreement.

(3) Every order made under this section shall be laid before the National Assembly.

4. Subject to section 16, where this Part applies in the case of any country, ever fugitive criminal of that country who is in or suspected of being in Kenya shall be liable to be arrested, detained and surrendered in the manner provided by this Part—

Liability of fugitive
surrender.

(a) whether the crime in respect of which the surrender is sought was committed before or after the commencement of this Act or the application of this Part to that country; and

(b) whether there is or is not any concurrent jurisdiction in a court in Kenya over that crime.

5. (1) A requisition for the surrender of a fugitive criminal of any country who is in or suspected of being in Kenya shall be made to the Minister by a diplomatic representative or consular officer of that country and, upon receipt of such requisition, the Minister may, by order under his hand, signify to a magistrate that a requisition has been made and require the magistrate to issue his warrant for the arrest and detention of the fugitive criminal.

Requisition for surrender.

(2) If the Minister is of the opinion that the offence is one of a political character, he may refuse to make an order and may also at any time order a fugitive criminal accused or convicted of such offence to be discharged from custody.

6. (1) The warrant for the arrest of a fugitive criminal, whether accused or convicted of a crime, who is in or suspected of being in Kenya, may be issued by a magistrate—

Issue of warrant.

- (a) on the receipt of the order of the Minister and on such evidence as would, in the opinion of the magistrate, justify the issue of the warrant if the crime had been committed or the criminal convicted in Kenya; or
- (b) on such information or complaint and such evidence or after such proceedings as would, in the opinion of the magistrate, justify the issue of a warrant if the crime had been committed or the criminal convicted in Kenya.

(2) A magistrate issuing a warrant under this section without an order from the Minister shall forthwith send a report of the fact of the issue, together with the evidence and information or complaint or certified copies thereof, to the Minister, who may order the warrant to be cancelled and the person who has been arrested and detained on the warrant to be discharged.

(3) A fugitive criminal when arrested on a warrant under this section shall be brought before a magistrate as soon as possible.

(4) A fugitive criminal arrested and detained on a warrant issued without the order of the Minister shall be discharged by the magistrate unless the magistrate, within such reasonable time as, with reference to the circumstances of the case, he may fix, receives from the Minister an order signifying that a requisition has been made for the surrender of the criminal.

(5) The warrant of a magistrate issued in pursuance of this Part may be executed in any part of Kenya in the same manner as if it had been originally issued or subsequently endorsed by a magistrate having jurisdiction in the place where it is executed.

Hearing of case and evidence.
13 of 1982, 2nd Sch.

7. (1) When a fugitive criminal is brought before a magistrate, the magistrate shall hear the case in the same manner and have the same jurisdiction and powers, as nearly as may be, as in a trial before a subordinate court.

(2) The magistrate shall receive any evidence which may be tendered to show that the case is one to which the relevant provisions of section 16 apply or that the crime of which the prisoner is accused is not an extradition crime.

Committal or discharge of prisoner.

8. (1) In the case of a fugitive criminal accused of an extradition crime, if the foreign warrant authorizing the arrest of the criminal is duly authenticated, and such evidence is produced as, subject to the provisions of this Act, would according to the law of Kenya, justify the committal for trial of the prisoner if the crime of which he is accused was committed in Kenya, the magistrate shall commit him to prison, but otherwise shall order him to be discharged.

(2) In the case of a fugitive criminal alleged to have been convicted of an extradition crime, if such evidence is produced as, subject to the provisions of this Act would, according to the law of Kenya, prove that the prisoner was convicted of such crime, the magistrate shall commit him to prison, but otherwise shall order him to be discharged.

(3) If the magistrate commits such criminal to prison, he shall commit him to prison to await the warrant of the Minister for his surrender; and the magistrate shall forthwith send to the Minister a certificate of the committal and such report on the case as he may think fit.

9. (1) Whenever a magistrate commits a fugitive criminal to prison under this Part, he shall inform the criminal that he will not be surrendered until after the expiration of fifteen days and that he has a right to apply for the issue of directions in the nature of habeas corpus.

Surrender of fugitive criminal.

(2) Upon the expiration of the period of fifteen days, or, if directions in the nature of habeas corpus are issued, after the decision of the court upon the return to the directions, as the case may be, or after such further period as may be allowed in either case by the Minister, the Minister may by warrant under his hand order the fugitive criminal, if not set at liberty on the decision of the court, to be surrendered to such person as is in his opinion, duly authorized to receive the fugitive criminal by the country from which the requisition for the surrender proceeded, and the fugitive criminal shall be surrendered accordingly.

(3) Any person to whom such warrant is directed, and the person so authorized as aforesaid, may receive, hold in custody and convey into the jurisdiction of that country the criminal mentioned in the warrant.

10. Whenever a fugitive criminal who has been committed to prison is not surrendered and conveyed out of Kenya within two months after the committal or, if directions in the nature of habeas corpus are issued, after the decision of the court upon the return to the directions, any judge of the High Court may—

Discharge of fugitive criminal.

(a) upon application made to him by or on behalf of the criminal; and

(b) upon proof that reasonable notice of the intention to make the application has been given to the Minister,

order the criminal to be discharged out of custody unless sufficient cause is shown to the contrary.

PART III—RECIPROCAL BACKING OF WARRANTS

Application of Part.
65 of 1968, s. 19.
Cap. 77.

11. (1) Where the Minister is satisfied that reciprocal provision has been or will be made by or under the law of any contiguous country other than a designate Commonwealth country within the meaning of the Extradition (Commonwealth Countries) Act, for the backing of warrants issued in Kenya and their execution in that country and that it is appropriate to do so, he may, by order published in the Gazette, declare that this Part shall apply in the case of that country subject to such conditions, exceptions and qualifications as may be specified in the order, and this Part shall apply accordingly.

(2) Every order made under this section shall be laid before the National Assembly.

Backing of warrants
country.

12. (1) Where a warrant has been issued in a country to which this Part applies for the arrest of a person accused of an offence punishable by law in that country, and he is or is suspected of being in or on the way to Kenya, a magistrate may, if satisfied that the warrant was issued by a person having lawful authority to issue it, endorse such warrant.

(2) An endorsement of a warrant shall be signed by the magistrate and shall authorize all or any of the persons named in the endorsement and every police officer to execute the warrant by arresting the person named in it and bringing him before a magistrate.

(3) A warrant endorsed under this section shall be sufficient authority to arrest, within the jurisdiction of the endorsing magistrate, the person named in the warrant and to bring him before a magistrate.

(4) This Part shall apply whatever the date of the warrant and whether the offence is alleged to have been committed before or after the commencement of this Act or the application of this Part to the country concerned.

Provisional warrant.

13. (1) Notwithstanding that a warrant for the arrest of any person issued in a country to which this Part applies may not yet have been endorsed in pursuance of this Part, a magistrate may issue a provisional warrant for the arrest of such person on such information and under such circumstances as would, in his opinion, justify the issue of a warrant if the offence of which that person is accused were an offence punishable by the law of Kenya and had been committed within his jurisdiction; and such warrant may be endorsed in the manner provided in the Criminal Procedure Code, and may be executed accordingly.

Cap. 75.

(2) Where a person is arrested under such a provisional warrant—

- (a) no order may be made under section 14 for his return to the country in which the original warrant was issued unless the original warrant is produced and endorsed in accordance with this Part; and
- (b) he shall be discharged unless the original warrant is produced and endorse within such time as the magistrate thinks reasonable in the circumstances.

14. (1) Subject to section 16, where a person arrested under a warrant endorsed in accordance with section 12, or a provisional warrant issued under section 13, is brought before a magistrate and, in the case of a person arrested under a provisional warrant, the original warrant has been produced and endorsed, the magistrate may, if he is satisfied—

Return of prisoner.

- (a) that the warrant is duly authenticated as directed by this Act and was issued by a person having lawful authority to issue the same; and
- (b) by evidence on oath, that the prisoner is the person named or otherwise described in the warrant, order the prisoner to be returned to the country in which the original warrant was issued, and for that purpose to be delivered into the custody of the persons to whom the warrant is directed or any one or more of them and to be held in custody and conveyed into that country.

(2) A person to whom the warrant is directed and the person so authorized may receive, hold in custody and convey into the jurisdiction of that country the prisoner mentioned in the warrant.

(3) A magistrate shall, so far as is requisite for the exercise of the powers of this section, have the same power, including the power to remand and admit to bail a prisoner, as he has in the case of a person arrested under a warrant issued by him.

(4) In proceedings under this section, the magistrate shall receive any evidence which may be tendered to show that the case is one to which the relevant provisions of section 16 apply.

15. (1) Whenever a prisoner whose return is authorized in pursuance of this Part is not conveyed out of Kenya within one month after the date of the order for his return, a magistrate may—prisoner.

(a) upon application by or on behalf of the prisoner; and

(b) upon proof that reasonable notice of the intention to make the application has been given to the person holding the warrant and to the Commissioner of Police or chief officer of the police of the district, city, town or area where the prisoner is in custody; and

(c) unless sufficient cause is shown to the contrary, order the prisoner to be discharged out of custody.

(2) Without prejudice to any application for directions in the nature of a writ of habeas corpus in respect of anything purporting to be done under this Part, any order or refusal to make an order of discharge under subsection (1) may be the subject of an appeal to the High Court.

(3) If, in any proceedings under this Part which are brought to his attention, the Minister is of opinion that the offence is one of a political character, he may order a person arrested under this Part to be discharged from custody.

PART IV — MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS RELATING TO SURRENDER AND RETURN

Restrictions

Restriction on surrender or return.

16. (1) A fugitive criminal shall not be surrendered under Part II and a person arrested under Part III shall not be returned—

(a) if the offence in respect of which his surrender is required, or the offence specified in the warrant, as the case may be, is one of a political character or if it appears to a court or the Minister that the requisition for the surrender, or the application for endorsement of a warrant and the return of the person named therein, has in fact been made with a view to try or to punish him for an offence of a political character; or

(b) if the fugitive criminal or the person arrested is accused of some offence triable by a court in Kenya or is undergoing sentence under any conviction in Kenya, until after he has been discharged, whether by acquittal or on the expiration of his sentence or otherwise.

(2) Subject to section 27, a fugitive criminal shall not be surrendered under Part II—

- (a) unless provision is made by the law of the country to which he is to be surrendered, or by agreement, that the fugitive criminal shall not, unless he has been restored or had an opportunity of returning to Kenya, be detained or tried in that country for any offence committed before his surrender other than an extradition crime proved by the facts on which the surrender is grounded; or
- (b) until the expiration of fifteen days from the date of his being committed to prison to await his surrender.

(3) Where the return of a prisoner is sought or arranged under Part III and it appears to the magistrate that by reason of the trivial nature of the case, or by reason of the application for the return of the prisoner not being made in good faith in the interests of justice, or otherwise, it would, having regard to the distance, to the facilities of communication and to all the circumstances of the case, be unjust or oppressive or too severe a punishment to return the prisoner either at all or until the expiration of a certain period, the magistrate may discharge the prisoner either absolutely or on bail or order that he shall not be returned until after the expiration of the period named in the order or may make such other order in the matter as the magistrate thinks proper.

(4) Without prejudice to any application for directions in the nature of a writ of habeas corpus in respect of anything purporting to be done under Part III, an order or refusal to make an order of discharge under subsection (3) may be the subject of an appeal to the High Court.

Evidence

17. (1) Depositions or statements on oath or affirmation taken in the country concerned and copies of the original depositions or statements and official certificates of or judicial documents stating the fact of conviction may, if duly authenticated, be received in evidence in any proceedings under this Act. Evidence.

(2) In addition to any other means by which the same may be proved, a magistrate or the High Court—

- (a) shall take judicial notice of any law of a country by which the surrender of a fugitive criminal is required which makes provision for any such matter as is referred to in section 16 (2) (a), if an official copy of such law is produced and certified by the Minister responsible for foreign affairs or a diplomatic representative or consular officer of that country to be in force;

- (b) may receive as prima facie evidence of any such agreement as is referred to in the said paragraph a certificate to that effect by such Minister or diplomatic representative or consular officer aforesaid.

Authorization of warrants and

18. (1) Warrants and depositions or statements on oath or affirmation and copies thereof and certificate of or judicial documents stating the fact of a conviction shall be deemed duly authenticated for the purposes of this Act if authenticated in manner provided for the time being by law or if—

- (a) the warrant purports to be signed by a judge, magistrate or officer of the country where it was issued; or
- (b) the depositions or statements or the copies thereof purport to be certified under the hand of a judge, magistrate or officer of the country where they were taken to be the original depositions or statements or to be true copies thereof, as the case may require; or
- (c) the certificate of or judicial document stating the fact of conviction purports to be certified by a judge, magistrate or officer of the country where the conviction took place; and in every case the warrants, depositions, statements, copies, certificates and judicial documents, as the case may be, are authenticated by the oath of some witness or—

- (i) in a case to which Part II applies, by being sealed with the official seal of the Minister for the time being responsible for legal affairs, or some other Minister of State, of the country concerned; or
- (ii) in a case to which Part III applies, by sealing in the manner aforesaid or by the signature of the Attorney-General, Solicitor-General or Director of Public Prosecutions of the country concerned.

The demand for extradition must not be founded upon a sentence in contumacia.

The prisoner shall be taken before the competent magistrate, who shall examine him, and make the preliminary investigations of the affair, in the same manner as if the arrest had taken place for a crime committed in the same country.

made between the Governments which make the requisition, either on account of the gravity of the crimes committed, or for any other reason.

ARTICLE XVI

Every article found in the possession of the prisoner at the time of his arrest shall be seized, in order to be delivered up with him. Such delivery shall not be limited to the property or articles obtained by the robbery or fraudulent bankruptcy, but shall include everything that may serve as evidence of the crime; and it shall take place even when the extradition, after having been ordered, cannot take effect either on account of the escape or the death of the delinquent.

If the requisition relates to a person already convicted, it must be accompanied by a copy of the judgment passed on the convicted person by the competent Court of the State that makes the requisition for extradition.

A sentence passed in contumaciam is not to be deemed a conviction, but a person so sentenced may be dealt with as an accused person.

If the accused or sentenced person be not a subject of one of the Contracting Parties, the Government to whom application for extradition is made shall be at liberty to take such action in respect of the application, as it may think fit, and to surrender the person claimed to be tried in the State in which the crime or offence has been committed.

Nevertheless, the Government of His Majesty the King of the Hellenes reserves to itself the option of surrendering the person claimed to the State to which he belongs, instead of surrendering him to the State in which the crime or offence has been committed.

ARTICLE 15

If a fugitive criminal who has been arrested has not been surrendered and conveyed away within three months after his arrest, or within three months after the decision of the Court upon the return to a writ of habeas corpus in Kenya, he shall be set at liberty.

ARTICLE 16

When extradition is granted all articles connected with the crime or offence, or which may serve as proofs of the crime, which are found in the possession of the person claimed at the time of his arrest, or which may be afterwards discovered, shall, if the competent authority of the State applied to so direct, be seized and restored to the requisitioning State.

Such restoration shall be carried out, even if extradition be not carried out owing to the escape or death of the person claimed.

The rights, however, which third persons, not involved in the prosecution, may have acquired over the said articles are reserved, and the latter shall, should the case arise, be restored to them, free of charge, at the termination of the proceedings.

ARTICLE 17

All expenses arising out of an application for extradition, also the costs of the arrest, maintenance, and transport of the person whose extradition shall have been granted, as well as of the dispatch and forwarding of the articles which, by the provisions of Article 16, are to be returned or restored, shall be borne by the requisitioning State and by the State applied to within the limits of their respective territories.

The cost of transport or other expenses outside the territory of the State applied to shall be borne by the demanding State

28. Revolt, or conspiracy to revolt, by two or more persons on board a ship on the high seas, against the authority of the master.
29. Dealing in slaves in such manner as to constitute a crime or offence against the laws of both States.

Extradition is also to be granted for participation in any of the aforesaid crimes or offences, before, during or after the crime is committed: provided that such participation is punishable by the laws of both the High Contracting Parties (that is to say, in Poland, in accordance with the laws of at least one of the Provinces).

ARTICLE 4

Each Party reserves the right to refuse or grant the surrender of its own subjects or citizens to the other Party.

ARTICLE 5

The extradition shall not take place if the person claimed has already been tried and discharged or punished, or is still under trial in the State applied to, for the crime or offence for which his extradition is demanded: provided that the discharge of the accused on the ground that the crime or offence was committed abroad shall constitute no hindrance to his subsequent extradition.

If the person claimed should be under examination or under punishment in the State applied to for any other crime or offence, his extradition shall be deferred until the conclusion of the trial and the full execution of any punishment awarded to him.

ARTICLE 6

Extradition shall not be granted if the accused has by lapse of time, in accordance with the laws of that part of the territories of the High Contracting

[Subsidiary]

Parties in which he is found, acquired exemption from prosecution or punishment with respect to the crime or offence for which his surrender is claimed.

ARTICLE 7

A fugitive criminal shall not be surrendered if the crime or offence in respect of which his surrender is demanded is one of a political character, or if he proves that the requisition for his surrender has, in fact, been made with a view to try or punish him for a crime or offence of a political character.

ARTICLE 8

A person surrendered can in no case be kept in custody or be brought to trial in the State to which the surrender has been made for any other crime or offence, or on account of any other matters, than those for which extradition shall have taken place, until he has been restored, or has had an opportunity of returning to the State by which he has been surrendered (whether he has made use of this opportunity or not) or else until having returned there he reappears in the country to which he has been previously surrendered.

This stipulation does not apply to crimes or offences committed after the extradition.

ARTICLE 9

Subject to the provisions of Articles 19 and 20, the requisition for extradition shall be presented by the diplomatic agent of the High Contracting Party requiring the extradition to the Secretary of State or Minister for Foreign Affairs of the High Contracting Party applied to.

The requisition for the extradition of an accused person must be accompanied by a warrant of arrest issued by the competent authority of the State requiring the extradition, and by such evidence, as, according to the laws of the place where the accused is found, would justify his arrest if the crime or offence had been committed there.

If the requisition relates to a person already convicted, it must be accompanied by the sentence of condemnation passed against the convicted person by the competent court of the State that makes the requisition for extradition.

A sentence passed in contumaciam is not to be deemed a conviction, but a person so sentenced may be dealt with as an accused person.

ARTICLE 10

If the requisition for extradition be in accordance with the foregoing stipulations, the competent authorities of the State applied to shall proceed to the arrest of the fugitive.

ARTICLE 11

In urgent cases a criminal fugitive may be apprehended under a warrant issued by any police magistrate, justice of the peace, or other competent authority in either State, on such information or complaint, and such evidence, or after such proceedings, as would, in the opinion of the authority issuing the warrant, justify the issue of a warrant if the crime or offence had been committed or the person convicted in that part of the dominions of the two Contracting Parties in which the magistrate, justice of the peace, or other competent authority exercises jurisdiction. He shall, in accordance with this Article, be discharged if within the term of thirty days a requisition for extradition shall not have been made by the diplomatic agent of the other State in accordance with the stipulations of this Treaty.

[Subsidiary]

ARTICLE 12

Extradition shall take place only if the evidence be found sufficient, according to the laws of the State applied to, (a) either to justify the committal of the prisoner for trial, in case the crime or offence had been committed in the territory of the same State, or (b) to prove that the prisoner is the identical person convicted by the Courts of the State which makes the requisition, and that the crime or offence of which he has been convicted is one in respect of which extradition could, at the time of such conviction, have been granted by the State applied to.

No criminal shall be surrendered until after the expiration of fifteen days from the date of his committal to prison to await the warrant for his surrender.

ARTICLE 13

In the examinations which they have to make in accordance with the foregoing stipulations, the authorities of the State applied to shall admit as valid evidence the sworn depositions or the affirmations of witnesses taken in the other State, or copies thereof, and likewise the warrants and sentences issued therein, or copies thereof, and certificates of, or judicial documents stating the fact of a conviction, provided the same are authenticated as follows:—

1. A warrant, or copy thereof, must purport to be signed by a judge, magistrate, or officer of the other State, or purport to be certified under the hand of a judge, magistrate or officer of the other State to be a true copy thereof, as the case may require.
2. Depositions or affirmations, or the copies thereof, must purport to be certified, under the hand of a judge, magistrate, or officer of the other State, to be the original depositions or affirmations, or to be true copies thereof, as the case may require.
3. A certificate of, or judicial document stating the fact of a conviction must purport to be certified by a judge, magistrate, or officer of the other State.

In every case such warrant, deposition, affirmation, copy, certificate, or judicial document must be authenticated, either by the oath of some witness, or by being sealed with the official seal of the Minister of Justice, or some other Minister of the other State, or by any other mode of authentication for the time being permitted by the law of the State to which the application for extradition is made.

[Subsidiary]

ARTICLE 14

If the extradition of an individual is claimed by one of the High Contracting Parties in pursuance of the present Treaty and his extradition is also claimed by one or more other States, the State applied to shall in its absolute discretion determine to which State the extradition shall be granted.

ARTICLE 15

If sufficient evidence for the extradition be not produced within two months from the date of the apprehension of the fugitive, or within such further time as the State applied to, or the proper tribunal thereof, shall direct, the fugitive shall be set at liberty.

ARTICLE 16

All articles seized which were in the possession of the person to be surrendered at the time of his apprehension and any articles that may serve as a proof of the crime or offence shall be given up when the extradition takes place, in so far as this may be permitted by the law of the State granting the extradition.

ARTICLE 17

Each of the High Contracting Parties shall defray the expenses occasioned by the arrest within its territories, the detention, and the conveyance to its frontier, of the persons whom it may have consented to surrender in pursuance of the present Treaty.

[Subsidiary]

ARTICLE IV

The extradition shall not take place if the person claimed on the part of the Government of Kenya, or the person claimed on the part of the Liberian Government, has already been tried and discharged or punished, or is still under trial, within the territories of the two High Contracting Parties respectively, for the crime for which his extradition is demanded.

If the person claimed on the part of the Government of Kenya, or if the person claimed on the part of the Liberian Government, should be under examination, or is undergoing sentence under a conviction, for any other crime within the territories of the two High Contracting Parties respectively, his extradition shall be deferred until after he has been discharged, whether by acquittal, or on expiration of his sentence, or otherwise.

[Subsidiary]

The requisition for the extradition of the accused person must be accompanied by a warrant of arrest issued by the competent authority of the State requiring the extradition, and by such evidence as, according to the laws of the place where the accused is found, would justify his arrest if the crime had been committed there.

If the requisition relates to a person already convicted, it must be accompanied by the sentence of condemnation passed against the convicted person by the competent Court of the State that makes the requisition for extradition.

A sentence passed in contumaciam is not to be deemed a conviction, but a person so sentenced may be dealt with as an accused person.

NOW THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred upon the Attorney-General by section 3 of the Extradition (Contiguous and Foreign Countries) Act, it is hereby declared that Part II of the said Act shall apply in the case of the State of Spain.

22. Dealing in slaves in such manner as to constitute an offence against the laws of both countries.

The extradition is also to take place for participation in any of the aforesaid crimes as an accessory before or after the fact, provided such participation be punishable by the laws of both Contracting Parties.

ARTICLE III

The present Treaty shall apply to crimes and offences committed prior to the signature of the Treaty; but a person surrendered shall not be tried for any crime or offence committed in the other country before the extradition, other than the crime for which his surrender has been granted.

ARTICLE IV

No person shall be surrendered if the offence in respect of which his surrender is demanded is one of a political character, or if he prove to the satisfaction of the competent authority of the State in which he is that the requisition for his surrender has in fact been made with a view to try or punish him for an offence of political character.

ARTICLE V

In the States of Spain, excepting the provinces or possessions beyond sea, the proceedings for demanding and obtaining the extradition shall be as follows:—

The Diplomatic Representative of Kenya shall send to the Minister for Foreign Affairs (Ministro de Estado) with the demand for extradition, an authenticated and legalised copy of the sentence or of the warrant of arrest against the person accused, clearly showing the crime or offence for which proceedings are taken against the fugitive. This judicial document shall be accompanied, if possible, by a description of the person claimed, and any other information or particulars that may serve to identify him.

These documents shall be communicated by the Minister for Foreign Affairs to the Minister of Grace and Justice, by whose Department, after examining the documents and finding that there is reason for the extradition, an order will be issued granting it, and directing the arrest of the person claimed and his delivery to the Kenya authorities.

In virtue of the said Order the Minister of the Interior (Ministro de la Gobernacion) will adopt the fitting measures for the arrest of the fugitive, and when this has taken place, the person claimed shall be placed at the disposal of the Diplomatic Representative who has demanded his extradition, and he shall be taken to the part of the frontier or to the seaport where the Agent appointed for the purpose by the Government of Kenya is ready to take charge of him.

In case the documents furnished by the said Government for the identification of the person claimed, or the information obtained by the Spanish authorities for the same purpose, should be considered insufficient, immediate notice thereof shall be given to the Diplomatic Representative of Kenya, and the person under arrest shall be detained until the Government of Kenya shall have furnished fresh evidence to prove his identity or to clear up any other difficulty relative to the examination and decision of the affair.

ARTICLE VI

In Kenya the manner of proceeding, in order to demand and obtain extradition, shall be as follows:—

(a) In the case of a person accused—

The requisition for the surrender shall be made to the Kenya Minister for Foreign Affairs by the Diplomatic Representative of Spain. The said demand shall be accompanied by a warrant of arrest or other equivalent judicial document issued by a Judge or Magistrate duly authorised to take cognisance of the acts charged against the accused in Spain, and duly authenticated depositions or statements taken on oath before such judge or magistrate, clearly setting forth the said acts, and containing a description of the person claimed, and any particulars which may serve to identify him.

The said Minister shall transmit such documents to the Attorney-General, who shall then, by order under his hand and seal, signify to some Magistrate that such requisition has been made, and require him, if there be due cause, to issue his warrant for the apprehension of the fugitive. On the receipt of such order from the Attorney-General and on the production of such evidence as would, in the opinion of the Magistrate, justify the issue of the warrant if the crime had been committed in Kenya, he shall issue his warrant accordingly.

When the person claimed shall have been apprehended, he shall be brought before the magistrate who issued the warrant, or some other Magistrate. If the evidence to be then produced shall be such as to justify, according to the law of Kenya, the committal for trial of the prisoner, if the crime of which he is accused had been committed in the United Kingdom, the Magistrate shall commit him to prison to await the warrant of the Attorney-General for his surrender; sending immediately to the Attorney-General a certificate of the committal and a report upon the case.

After the expiration of a period from the committal of the prisoner, which shall never be less than fifteen days, the Attorney-General shall, by order under his hand and seal, order the fugitive criminal to be surrendered to such person as may be duly authorised to receive him on the part of the Spanish Government.

(b) In the case of a person convicted—

The course of proceeding shall be the same as above indicated, except that the warrant to be transmitted by the Diplomatic Representative of Spain in support of his requisition shall clearly set forth the crime or offence of which the person claimed has been convicted, and state the place and date of his conviction.

The evidence to be produced before the magistrate shall be such as would, according to the law of Kenya, prove that the prisoner was convicted of the crime charged.

(c) Persons convicted by judgment in default or arret de contumace, shall be, in the matter of extradition, considered as persons accused, and, as such, be surrendered.

(d) After the Magistrate shall have committed the accused or convicted person to prison to await the order of the Attorney-General for his surrender, such person shall have the right to apply for a writ of habeas corpus, if he should so apply, his surrender must be deferred until after the decision of the Court upon the return to the writ and even then can only take place if the decision is adverse to the applicant. In the latter case the Court may at once order his delivery to the person authorised to receive him, without the order of the Attorney-General for his surrender, or commit him to prison to await such order.

ARTICLE VII

Warrants, depositions, or statements on oath, issued or taken in the dominions of either of the two High Contracting Parties and copies thereof, and certificates of or judicial documents stating the facts of conviction, shall be received in evidence in proceedings in the dominions of the other, if purporting to be signed or certified by a Judge, Magistrate, or officer of the country where they were issued or taken, provided such warrants, depositions, statements, copies, certificates, and judicial documents are authenticated by the oath of some witness, or by being sealed with the official seal of the Minister of Justice or some other Minister of State.

ARTICLE VIII

A fugitive criminal may be apprehended under a warrant issued by any Magistrate, Justice of the Peace, or other competent authority, in either country, on such information or complaint, and such evidence, or after such proceedings as would, in the opinion of the authority issuing the warrant, justify the issue of a warrant if the crime had been committed or the person convicted in that part of the dominions of the two Contracting Parties in which the Magistrate, Justice of the Peace, or other competent authority exercising jurisdiction; provided, however, that, in Kenya, the accused shall, in such case, be sent as speedily as possible before a Magistrate. He shall in accordance with this Article be discharged, as well in Spain as in Kenya, if within the term of thirty days a requisition for extradition shall not have been made by the Diplomatic Agent of his country in accordance with the stipulations of this Treaty.

The same rule shall apply to the cases of persons accused or convicted of any of the crimes of offences specified in this Treaty, and committed on the high seas on board any vessel of either country which may come into a port of the other.

ARTICLE IX

If the fugitive criminal who has been committed to prison be not surrendered and conveyed away within two months after such committal or within two months after the adverse decision of the Court upon the return to a writ of habeas corpus in Kenya, he shall be discharged from custody, unless sufficient cause be shown to the contrary.

ARTICLE X

In the provinces beyond sea, colonies and other possessions beyond sea of the two High Contracting Parties, the manner of proceeding shall be as follows:—

The requisition for extradition of the fugitive criminal who has taken refuge in an over-sea province, colony, or possession of either of the two Contracting Parties, shall be made to the Governor or chief authority of such province, colony or possession by the chief Consular Officer of the other State in such province, colony or possession; or, if the fugitive has escaped from an over-sea province, colony, or possession of the State on whose behalf the extradition is demanded, by the Governor or chief authority of such province, colony or possession.

In these cases the provisions of this Treaty shall be observed as far as possible by the respective Governors or chief authorities, who, however, shall be at liberty either to grant the extradition or to refer the decision of the matter to the Governments of their respective countries.

ARTICLE XI

In cases where it may be necessary, the Spanish Government shall be represented at the Kenya courts by the Attorney-General, and the Kenya Government in the Spanish Courts by the Public Prosecutor (Ministerio Fiscal).

The respective Governments will give assistance to the Diplomatic Representative who claim their intervention for the custody and security of the persons subject to extradition.

ARTICLE XII

The claim for extradition shall not be complied with if the individual claimed has already been tried for the same offence in the country whence the extradition is demanded, or if, since the commission of the acts charged, the accusation or the conviction, exemption from prosecution or punishment has been acquired by lapse of time, according to the laws of that country.

ARTICLE XIII

If the individual claimed by one of the two High Contracting Parties in pursuance of the present Treaty should be also claimed by one or several other powers, on account of other crimes or offences committed upon their respective territories, his extradition shall be granted to that State whose demand is earliest in date; unless any other arrangement should exist between the different Governments to determine the preference, either on account of the gravity of the crime or offence, or for any other reason.

ARTICLE XIV

If the individual claimed should be under prosecution, or have been condemned for a crime or offence committed in the country where he may have taken refuge, his surrender may be deferred until he shall have been set at liberty in due course of law.

In case he should be proceeded against or detained in such country, on account of obligations contracted towards private individuals, the extradition shall nevertheless take place.

ARTICLE XV

Every article found in the possession of the individual claimed at the time of his arrest, shall, if the competent authority so decide, be seized, in order to be delivered up with his person at the time when the extradition takes place. Such delivery shall not be limited to the property or articles obtained by stealing or by fraudulent bankruptcy, but shall extend to everything that may serve as proof of the crime or offence, and shall take place even when the extradition, after having been granted, cannot be carried out by reason of the escape or death of the individual claimed.

The rights of third parties with regard to the said property or articles are nevertheless reserved.

ARTICLE XVI

The High Contracting Parties renounce any claim for the reimbursement of the expenses incurred by them in the arrest and maintenance of the person to be surrendered, and his conveyance as far as the frontier; they reciprocally agree to bear such expenses themselves.

ARTICLE IV

The extradition shall not take place if the person claimed has already been tried and discharged or punished, or is still under trial in the State applied to, for the crime or offence for which his extradition is demanded.

If the person claimed should be under examination or under punishment in the State applied to for any other crime or offence, his extradition shall be deferred until the conclusion of the trial and the full execution of any punishment awarded to him.

ARTICLE VII

A person surrendered can in no case be kept in custody or be brought to trial in the State to which the surrender has been made for any other crime or offence, or on account of any other matters, than those for which the extradition shall have taken place, until he has been restored, or has had an opportunity of returning, to the State by which he has been surrendered.

If the requisition relates to a person already convicted, it must be accompanied by the sentence of condemnation passed against the convicted person by the competent court of the State that makes the requisition for extradition, provided that a sentence passed in contumaciam is not to be deemed a conviction, but a person so sentenced may be dealt with as an accused person.
