PROTECTION OF FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS AND FREEDOMS OF THE INDIVIDUAL

Fundamental rights and freedoms of the individual.

1. Whereas every person in Kenya is entitled to the fundamental rights and freedoms of the individual, that is to say, the right, whatever his race, tribe, place of origin or residence or other local connection, political opinions, colour, creed or sex, but subject to respect for the rights and freedoms of others and for the public interest, to each and all of the following, namely—

- (a) life, liberty, security of the person and the protection of the law;
- (b) freedom of conscience, of expression and of assembly and association; and
- (c) protection for the privacy of his home and other property and from deprivation of property without compensation, the provisions of this Chapter shall have effect for the purpose of affording protection to those rights and freedoms subject to such limitations of that protection as are contained in those provisions, being limitations designed to ensure that the enjoyment of the said rights and freedoms by any individual does not prejudice the rights and freedoms of others or the public interest.

Protection of right to life.

2. (1) No person shall be deprived of his life intentionally save in execution of the sentence of a court in respect of a criminal offence under the law of Kenya of which he has been convicted.

(2) Without prejudice to any liability for a contravention of any other law with respect to the use of force in such cases as are hereinafter mentioned, a person shall not be regarded as having been deprived of his life in contravention of this section if he dies as the result of the use of force to such extent as is reasonably justifiable in the circumstances of the case—

- (a) for the defence of any person from violence or for the defence of property;
- (b) in order to effect a lawful arrest or to prevent the escape of a person lawfully detained;
- (c) for the purpose of suppressing a riot, insurrection or mutiny; or
- (d) in order to prevent the commission by that person of a criminal offence, or if he dies as the result of a lawful act of war.

Protection of right to personal liberty.

3. (1) No person shall be deprived of his personal liberty save as may be authorized by law in any of the following cases, that is to say—

- (a) in execution of the sentence or order of a court, whether established for Kenya or some other country, in respect of a criminal offence of which he has been convicted;
- (b) in execution of the order of the Supreme Court or the Court of Appeal for Kenya or any court on which jurisdiction is conferred under section 166 of this Constitution punishing him for contempt of any such court or of another court or tribunal;

- (c) in execution of the order of a court made to secure the fulfilment of any obligation imposed on him by law;
- (d) for the purpose of bringing him before a court in execution of the order of a court;
- (e) upon reasonable suspicion of his having committed, or being about to commit, a criminal offence under the law of Kenya;
- (f) in the case of a person who has not attained the age of eighteen years, for the purpose of his education or welfare;
- (g) for the purpose of preventing the spread of an infectious or contagious disease;
- (h) in the case of a person who is, or is reasonably suspected to be, of unsound mind, addicted to drugs or alcohol, or a vagrant, for the purpose of his care or treatment or the protection of the community;
- (i) for the purpose of preventing the unlawful entry of that person into Kenya, or for the purpose of effecting the expulsion, extradition or other lawful removal of that person from Kenya or for the purpose of restricting that person while he is being conveyed through Kenya in the course of his extradition or removal as a convicted prisoner from one country to another; or
- (j) to such extent as may be necessary in the execution of a lawful order requiring that person to remain within a specified area within Kenya or prohibiting him from being within such an area, or to such extent as may be reasonably justifiable for the taking of proceedings against that person relating to the making of any such order, or to such extent as may be reasonably justifiable for restraining that person during any visit that he is permitted to make to any part of Kenya in which, in consequence of any such order, his presence would otherwise be unlawful.

(2) Any person who is arrested or detained shall be informed as soon as reasonably practicable, in a language that he understands, of the reasons for his arrest or detention.

(3) Any person who is arrested or detained—

- (a) for the purpose of bringing him before a court in execution of the order of a court; or
- (b) upon reasonable suspicion of his having committed, or being about to commit, a criminal offence, and who is not released, shall be brought before a court as soon as is reasonably practicable, and where he is not brought before a court within twenty-four hours of his arrest or from the commencement of his detention, the burden of proving that the person arrested or detained has been brought before a court as soon as is reasonably practicable shall rest upon any person alleging that the provisions of this subsection have been complied with.

(4) Where any person is brought before a court in execution of the order of a court in any proceedings or upon suspicion of his having committed or being about to commit an offence, he shall not be thereafter further held in custody in connection with those proceedings or that offence save upon the order of a court.

(5) If any person arrested or detained as mentioned in paragraph (b) of subsection (3) of this section is not tried within a reasonable time, then, without prejudice to any further proceedings that may be brought against him, he shall be released either unconditionally or upon reasonable conditions, including in particular such conditions as are reasonably necessary to ensure that he appears at a later date for trial or for proceedings preliminary to trial.

(6) Any person who is unlawfully arrested or detained by any other person shall be entitled to compensation therefor from that other person.

Protection
from slavery and forced labour.

4. (1) No person shall be held in slavery or servitude.

(2) No person shall be required to perform forced labour.

(3) For the purposes of this section, the expression "forced labour" does not include—

(a) any labour required in consequence of the sentence or order of a court;

(b) labour required of any person while he is lawfully detained that, though not required in consequence of the sentence or order of a court, is reasonably necessary in the interests of hygiene or for the maintenance of the place at which he is detained;

(c) any labour required of a member of a disciplined force in pursuance of his duties as such or, in the case of a person who has conscientious objections to service as a member of a naval, military or air force, any labour that that person is required by law to perform in place of such service;

(d) any labour required during any period when Her Majesty is at war or a declaration of emergency under section 17 of this Constitution is in force or in the event of any other emergency or calamity that threatens the life or well-being of the community, to the extent that the requiring of such labour is reasonably justifiable, in the circumstances of any situation arising or existing during that period or as a result of that other emergency or calamity, for the purpose of dealing with that situation; or

(e) any labour reasonably required as part of reasonable and normal communal or other civic obligations.

from inhuman treatment.

5. (1) No person shall be subjected to torture or to inhuman or degrading punishment or other treatment.

(2) Nothing contained in or done under the authority of any law shall be held to be inconsistent with or in contravention of this section to the extent that the law in question authorizes the infliction of any description of punishment that was lawful in Kenya immediately before the coming into operation of this Constitution.

6. (1) No property of any description shall be compulsorily taken possession of, and no interest in or right over property of any description shall be compulsorily acquired, except where the following conditions are satisfied, that is to say—

from deprivation of property.

- (a) the taking of possession or acquisition is necessary in the interests of defence, public safety, public order, public morality, public health, town and country planning or the development or utilisation of any property in such manner as to promote the public benefit; and
- (b) the necessity therefor is such as to afford reasonable justification for the causing of any hardship that may result to any person having an interest in or right over the property; and
- (c) provision is made by a law applicable to that taking of possession or acquisition for the prompt payment of full compensation.

(2) Every person having an interest or right in or over property which is compulsorily taken possession of or whose interest in or right over any property is compulsorily acquired shall have a right of direct access to the Supreme Court for—

- (a) the determination of his interest or right, the legality of the taking of possession or acquisition of the property, interest or right, and the amount of any compensation to which he is entitled; and
- (b) the purpose of obtaining prompt payment of that compensation:

Provided that if the Central Legislature so provides in relation to any matter referred to in paragraph (a) of this subsection the right of access shall be by way of appeal (exercisable as of right at the instance of the person having the right or interest in the property) from a tribunal or authority, other than the Supreme Court, having jurisdiction under any law to determine that matter.

(3) No person who is entitled to compensation under this section shall be prevented from remitting, within a reasonable time after he has received any amount of that compensation, the whole of that amount (free from any deduction, charge or tax made or levied in respect of its remission) to any country of his choice outside Kenya.

(4) Nothing contained in or done under the authority of any law shall be held to be inconsistent with or in contravention of subsection (3) of this section to the extent that the law in question authorizes—

- (a) the attachment, by order of a court, of any amount of compensation to which a person is entitled in satisfaction of the judgment of a court or pending the determination of civil proceedings to which he is a party; or
- (b) the imposition of reasonable restrictions on the manner in which any amount of compensation is to be remitted.

(5) Nothing contained in or done under the authority of any law shall be held to be inconsistent with or in contravention of subsection (1) or subsection (2) of this section—

(a) to the extent that the law in question makes provision for the taking of possession or acquisition of any property—

- (i) in satisfaction of any tax, duty, rate, cess or other impost;
- (ii) by way of penalty for breach of the law, whether under civil process or after conviction of a criminal offence under the law of Kenya;
- (iii) as an incident of a lease, tenancy, mortgage, charge, bill of sale, pledge or contract;
- (iv) in the execution of judgments or orders of a court in proceedings for the determination of civil rights or obligations;
- (v) in circumstances where it is reasonably necessary so to do because the property is in a dangerous state or injurious to the health of human beings, animals or plants;
- (vi) in consequence of any law with respect to the limitation of actions; or
- (vii) for so long only as may be necessary for the purposes of any examination, investigation, trial or inquiry or, in the case of land, for the purposes of the carrying out thereon of work of soil conservation or the conservation of other natural resources or work relating to agricultural development or improvement (being work relating to such development or improvement that the owner or occupier of the land has been required, and has without reasonable excuse refused or failed, to carry out),

and except so far as that provision or, as the case may be, the thing done under the authority thereof is shown not to be reasonably justifiable in a democratic society; or

(b) to the extent that the law in question makes provision for the taking of possession or acquisition of—

- (i) enemy property;
- (ii) property of a deceased person, a person of unsound mind or a person who has not attained the age of eighteen years, for the purpose of its administration for the benefit of the persons entitled to the beneficial interest therein;
- (iii) property of a person adjudged bankrupt or a body corporate in liquidation, for the purpose of its administration for the benefit of the creditors of the bankrupt or body corporate and, subject thereto, for the benefit of other persons entitled to the beneficial interest in the property; or
- (iv) property subject to a trust, for the purpose of vesting the property in persons appointed as trustees under the instrument creating the trust or by a court or, by order of a court, for the purpose of giving effect to the trust.

(6) Nothing contained in or done under the authority of any law made by the Central Legislature shall be held to be inconsistent with or in contravention of this section to the extent that the law in question makes provision for the compulsory taking possession of any property or the compulsory acquisition of any interest in or right over property where that property, interest or right is vested in a body corporate, established by law for public purposes, in which no moneys have been invested other than moneys provided by the Central Legislature; and nothing contained in or done under the authority of any law made by a Regional Assembly shall be held to be inconsistent with or in contravention of this section to the extent that the law in question makes provision for the compulsory taking possession of any property or the compulsory acquisition of any interest in or right over any property where the property, interest or right is vested in a body corporate, established by law for public purposes, in which no moneys have been invested other than moneys provided by that Regional Assembly.

7. (1) Except with his own consent, no person shall be subjected to the search of his person or his property or the entry by others on his premises.

Protection against arbitrary search or entry.

(2) Nothing contained in or done under the authority of any law shall be held to be inconsistent with or in contravention of this section to the extent that the law in question makes provision—

- (a) that is reasonably required in the interests of defence, public safety, public order, public morality, public health, town and country planning, the development and utilisation of mineral resources, or the development or utilisation of any other property in such a manner as to promote the public benefit;
- (b) that is reasonably required for the purpose of promoting the rights or freedoms of other persons;
- (c) that authorises an officer or agent of the Government of Kenya, or of a Region, or of the East African Common Services Organization, or of a local government authority or of a body corporate established by law for public purposes to enter on the premises of any person in order to inspect those premises or anything thereon for the purpose of any tax, rate or due or in order to carry out work connected with any property that is lawfully on those premises and that belongs to that Government, Region, Organization, authority or body corporate, as the case may be; or
- (d) that authorises, for the purpose of enforcing the judgment or order of a court in any civil proceedings, the entry upon any premises by order of a court, and except so far as that provision or, as the case may be, anything done under the authority thereof is shown not to be reasonably justifiable in a democratic society.

8. (1) If any person is charged with a criminal offence, then, unless the charge is withdrawn, the case shall be afforded a fair hearing within a reasonable time by an independent and impartial court established by law.

Provisions to secure

 - (f) shall be permitted to have without payment the assistance of an interpreter if he cannot understand the language used at the trial of the charge, and except with his own consent the trial shall not take place in his absence unless he so conducts himself as to render the continuance of the proceedings in his presence impracticable and the court has ordered him to be removed and the trial to proceed in his absence.

(3) When a person is tried for any criminal offence, the accused person or any person authorized by him in that behalf shall, if he so requires and subject to payment of such reasonable fee as may be prescribed by law, be given within a reasonable time after judgment a copy for the use of the accused person of any record of the proceedings made by or on behalf of the court.

(4) No person shall be held to be guilty of a criminal offence on account of any act or omission that did not, at the time it took place, constitute such an offence, and no penalty shall be imposed for any criminal offence that is severer in degree or description than the maximum penalty that might have been imposed for that offence at the time when it was committed.

(5) No person who shows that he has been tried by a competent court for a criminal offence and either convicted or acquitted shall again be tried for that offence or for any other criminal offence of which he could have been convicted at the trial for that offence, save upon the order of a superior court in the course of appeal or review proceedings relating to the conviction or acquittal.

(6) No person shall be tried for a criminal offence if he shows that he has been pardoned for that offence.

(7) No person who is tried for a criminal offence shall be compelled to give evidence at the trial.

(8) No person shall be convicted of a criminal offence unless that offence is defined, and the penalty therefor is prescribed, in a written law:

Provided that nothing in this subsection shall prevent a court from punishing any person for contempt notwithstanding that the act or omission constituting the contempt is not defined in a written law and the penalty therefor is not so prescribed.

(9) Any court or other adjudicating authority prescribed by law for the determination of the existence or extent of any civil right or obligation shall be established by law and shall be independent and impartial; and where proceedings for such a determination are instituted by any person before such a court or other adjudicating authority, the case shall be given a fair hearing within a reasonable time.

(11) Nothing in subsection (10) of this section shall prevent the court or other adjudicating authority from excluding from the proceedings persons other than the parties thereto and their legal representatives to such extent as the court or other authority—

(a) may by law be empowered to do and may consider necessary or expedient in circumstances where publicity would prejudice the interests of justice or in interlocutory proceedings or in the interests of public morality, the welfare of persons under the age of eighteen years or the protection of the private lives of persons concerned in the proceedings; or

(b) may by law be empowered or required to do in the interests of defence, public safety or public order.

(12) Nothing contained in or done under the authority of any law shall be held to be inconsistent with or in contravention of—

(a) subsection (2) (a) of this section to the extent that the law in question imposes upon any person charged with a criminal offence the burden of proving particular facts;

(b) subsection (2) (d) of this section to the extent that the law in question prohibits legal representation before an African Court or before any court or authority hearing appeals from such a court;

(c) subsection (2) (e) of this section to the extent that the law in question imposes conditions that must be satisfied if witnesses called to testify on behalf of an accused person are to be paid their expenses out of public funds; or

(d) subsection (5) of this section to the extent that the law in question authorizes a court to try a member of a disciplined force for a criminal offence notwithstanding any trial and conviction or acquittal of that member under the disciplinary law of that force, so, however, that any court so trying such a member and convicting him shall in sentencing him to any punishment take into account any punishment awarded him under that disciplinary law.

(13) In the case of any person who is held in lawful detention, the provisions of subsection (1), paragraphs (d) and (e) of subsection (2) and subsection (3) of this section shall not apply in relation to his trial for a criminal offence under the law regulating the discipline of persons held in such detention.

(14) Nothing contained in subsection (2) (d) of this section shall be construed as entitling a person to legal representation at public expense.

(15) In this section "criminal offence" means a criminal offence under the law of Kenya.

(16) Subsection (8) of this section shall come into effect at the expiration of a period of three years from the coming into operation of this Constitution.

(3) Except with his own consent (or, if he is a minor, the consent of his guardian), no person attending any place of education shall be required to receive religious instruction or to take part in or attend any religious ceremony or observance if that instruction, ceremony or observance relates to a religion other than his own.

- (b) for the purpose of protecting the rights and freedoms of other persons, including the right to observe and practise any religion without the unsolicited intervention of members of any other religion, and except so far as that provision or, as the case may be, the thing done under the authority thereof is shown not to be reasonably justifiable in a democratic society.

(6) References in this section to a religion shall be construed as including references to a religious denomination, and cognate expressions shall be construed accordingly.

Protection of
expression.

(2) Nothing contained in or done under the authority of any law shall be held to be inconsistent with or in contravention of this section to the extent that the law in question makes provision—

(b) that is reasonably required for the purpose of protecting the reputations, rights and freedoms of other persons or the private lives of persons concerned in legal proceedings, preventing the disclosure of information received in confidence, maintaining the authority and independence of the courts or regulating the technical administration or the technical operation of telephony, telegraphy, posts, wireless broadcasting or television; or

(c) that imposes restrictions upon public officers, and except so far as that provision or, as the case may be, the thing done under the authority thereof is shown not to be reasonably justifiable in a democratic society.

11. (1) Except with his own consent, no person shall be hindered in the enjoyment of his freedom of assembly and association, that is to say, his right to assemble freely and associate with other persons and in particular to form or belong to trade unions or other associations for the protection of his interests.

Protection of

12. (1) No person shall be deprived of his freedom of movement, that is to say, the right to move freely throughout Kenya, the right to reside in any part of Kenya, the right to enter Kenya, the right to leave Kenya and immunity from expulsion from Kenya.

Protection of
movement.

(2) Any restriction on a person's freedom of movement that is involved in his lawful detention shall not be held to be inconsistent with or in contravention of this section.

(3) Nothing contained in or done under the authority of any law shall be held to be inconsistent with or in contravention of this section to the extent that the law in question makes provision—

- (c) for the imposition of restrictions, by order of a court, on the movement or residence within Kenya of any person or on any person's right to leave Kenya either in consequence of his having been found guilty of a criminal offence under the law of Kenya or for the purpose of ensuring that he appears before a court at a later date for trial of such a criminal offence or for proceedings preliminary to trial or for proceedings relating to his extradition or lawful removal from Kenya;

- (a) in his opinion, the circumstances are such as not to permit prior consultation with the committee; or
- (b) after consultation with the committee he has still received no such request, but, subject to the provisions of subsections (9) and (11) of this section, he shall in every such case obtain the prior consent of the National Security Council.

and in any event if the National Security Council has not, at the expiration of forty-eight hours from the date on which the unit first entered the Region, consented to the retention of the unit in the Region.

(14) If the office of Chairman of a Public Service Commission is vacant or the Chairman is for any reason unable to exercise the functions of his office, then, until a person has been appointed to and has assumed the functions of that office or until the person holding that office has resumed those functions, as the case may be, the Deputy Chairman or, if the office of Deputy Chairman is vacant or the Deputy Chairman is for any reason unable to perform the functions of the office of Chairman, such one of the other independent members as the Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Judicial Service Commission, may appoint shall act as Chairman; and the Deputy Chairman or the other independent member shall, subject to the provisions of subsections (9), (11) and (13) of this section, continue to act until a person has been appointed to the office of Chairman and has assumed the functions of that office or, as the case may be, until the person in whose place he is acting has assumed or resumed those functions.

(15) If the office of a member of a Public Service Commission other than the Chairman is vacant or if such a member is acting as Chairman under subsection (14) of this section or is for any other reason unable to exercise the functions of his office, the Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Judicial Service Commission in the case of an independent member and in accordance with the advice of the Prime Minister or, as the case may be, the President of the Regional Assembly concerned in the case of a representative member, may appoint a person who is qualified to be appointed to the office of that member to act in place of that member; and any person so appointed shall, subject to the provisions of subsections (9), (11) and (13) of this section, continue to act until a person has been appointed to the office in which he is acting and has assumed the functions of that office or, as the case may be, until the person in whose place he is acting has resumed those functions.

(16) Subject to the provisions of this Chapter, a Public Service Commission shall, in the exercise of its functions under this Constitution, not be subject to the direction or control of any other person or authority.

(17) Subject to the provisions of this Chapter, a Public Service Commission may by regulation or otherwise regulate its own procedure and, with the consent of the Prime Minister in the case of an officer in the public service of the Government of Kenya or in the case of any authority of that Government and with the consent of the President of the Regional Assembly in the case of an officer in the public service of a Region or in the case of any authority of a Region, may confer powers or impose duties on such an officer or authority for the purpose of the discharge of its functions.

(2) A Public Service Commission may, by directions in writing and subject to such conditions as it thinks fit, delegate any of its powers under subsection (1) of this section to any one or more members of the Commission or, where the power relates to an office in the public service of the Government of Kenya and with the consent of the Prime Minister, to any person holding or acting in an office in that service or, where the power relates to an office in the public service of a Region and with the consent of the President of the Regional Assembly of that Region, to any person holding or acting in an office in the public service of that Region.

(3) Before making any appointment to fill a vacancy in any office in the public service of the Government of Kenya or of any Region, a Public Service Commission shall, without prejudice to its power to advertise the vacancy in any other way that it considers expedient, advertise the vacancy in such manner as it thinks will bring it to the attention of persons serving in any of the public services in Kenya; and any such person may notify that Public Service Commission that he wishes to be considered for that appointment.

(4) Before a Public Service Commission or any other person or authority exercises its power under this section to appoint to or to act in any office in the public service of the Government of Kenya or of any Region any person who holds or is acting in any office in any other public service in Kenya, the Commission or that person or authority shall consult the employing authority responsible for that other service, that is to say, the Minister for the time being responsible for the public service of the Government of Kenya in the case of that service and the Chairman of the Finance and Establishments committee of the Regional Assembly in the case of the public service of a Region; if the employing authority objects to the proposed appointment of that person, the independent members of the Public Service Commission shall consider the matter; and if a majority of the independent members agree that the appointment would not be in the interests of good administration in Kenya, the appointment shall not be made.

(5) When a Public Service Commission has, in pursuance of subsection (2) of this section, delegated to a disciplinary authority, that is to say, one or more of its members or a person holding or acting in an office in the public service of the Government of Kenya or of a Region, the power to exercise disciplinary control over any public officer (including the power to remove him from office) and that power has been exercised by the disciplinary authority, the officer in respect of whom it was so exercised may appeal from the decision of the disciplinary authority to the Public Service Commission:

Provided that, where the disciplinary authority is a person holding or acting in an office in the public service of the Government of Kenya or of a Region, the Commission may require appeals to be made to a person holding or acting in an office in that service of higher rank than that of the disciplinary authority before they are made under this subsection to the Commission.

(6) A Public Service Commission may by regulation or otherwise provide for the time and manner of the making of appeals to it under subsection (5) of this section and all matters incidental to such appeals.

(7) When a Public Service Commission is exercising its power to exercise disciplinary control over any public officer (including the power to remove him from office and the powers vested in it by subsections (5) and (6) of this section) only the independent members of that Commission shall be entitled to participate in its proceedings.

(8) In the exercise of any power conferred by this section to appoint persons to hold or act in any office in the public service of the Government of Kenya or of any Region, a Public Service Commission or any other person or authority to whom such power has been delegated under subsection (2) of this section shall give effect to such directions relating to the standards or qualifications (whether in respect of education, professional competence, place of origin, place of residence or otherwise) to be required of any person who is appointed as may be given to the Commission or that person or authority by the Minister for the time being responsible for the public service of the Government of Kenya or, as the case may be, by the Chairman of the Finance and Establishments committee of the Regional Assembly of that Region; but, without prejudice to the generality of section 176 (16) of this Constitution, a Public Service Commission shall not otherwise be subject to the direction or control of any other person or authority in the exercise of the powers conferred on it by this section, and any person or authority to whom powers are delegated under subsection (2) of this section shall, in the exercise of those powers, be subject to the direction and control only of the Commission by whom the delegation was made.

(10) In exercising its powers under this section to appoint persons to hold or act in offices in the public service of the Government of Kenya, the Public Service Commission of that Government shall endeavour to secure, as far as is practicable, that that public service includes at every level a reasonable number of persons from each Region and from the Nairobi Area.

(12) For the purpose of facilitating the transfer of public officers from one public service in Kenya to another and for the purpose of minimising competition between such services for the recruitment or retention of public officers, it shall be the duty of the Government of Kenya and of every Region to ensure, as far as is practicable, that the salaries, allowances and other conditions of service of public officers are similar in each of those services.

(13) To assist the Government of Kenya and the Regions in performing the duty imposed on that Government and on the Regions by subsection (12) of this section, the salaries, allowances and other conditions of service of officers in the various public services in Kenya shall be reviewed from time to time by a committee consisting of the Minister for the time being responsible for finance (who shall be Chairman) and the Chairman of the Finance and Establishments committee of each Regional Assembly (together with the independent members of the Public Service Commissions who shall attend the meetings of the committee in an advisory capacity), and the committee may make such recommendations as it thinks expedient as a result of its review to the Government of Kenya or to any Region.

Central Land Board

Establishment of Central Land Board.

187. (1) There shall be a Central Land Board which shall consist of—

- (a) a Chairman appointed by the Governor, acting in his discretion ;
- (b) a Deputy Chairman appointed by the Governor, acting in his discretion ;
- (c) such member representing the Government of Kenya as may for the time being be designated in that behalf by the Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Prime Minister ;
- (d) such member representing each Region as may for the time being be designated in that behalf by the Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the President of the Regional Assembly of that Region ; and

- (e) such member representing the owners of agricultural land that may be selected for purchase for the purposes of land settlement under section 188 of this Constitution as may for the time being be designated in that behalf by the Governor, acting after consultation with the Chairman.

(2) No person shall be qualified to be appointed as Chairman or Deputy Chairman if he is a Minister, a Parliamentary Secretary, a member of either House of the National Assembly or of a Regional Assembly or a member of a committee of a Regional Assembly, and no person shall be qualified to be appointed as Chairman or Deputy Chairman or designated as any other member of the Board if he is a public officer.

(3) Subject to the provisions of this section, the Chairman or the Deputy Chairman shall vacate his office—

- (a) at the expiration of four years from the date of his appointment; or
(b) if any circumstances arise that, if he were not Chairman or, as the case may be, Deputy Chairman, would cause him to be disqualified to be appointed as such.

(4) A person holding the office of Chairman or Deputy Chairman may be removed from office only for inability to discharge the functions of his office (whether arising from infirmity of body or mind or any other cause) or for misbehaviour and may not be so removed except in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(5) The Chairman or the Deputy Chairman shall be removed from office by the Governor if the question of his removal from office has been referred to a tribunal appointed under subsection (6) of this section and the tribunal has recommended to the Governor that he ought to be removed from office for inability as aforesaid or for misbehaviour.

(6) If the Prime Minister or the President of any Regional Assembly represents to the Governor that the question of removing the Chairman or the Deputy Chairman under this section ought to be investigated or if the Governor, acting in his discretion, considers that the question ought to be investigated, then—

- (a) the Governor shall appoint a tribunal which shall consist of a Chairman and not less than two other members, selected by the Chief Justice from among persons who hold or have held office as a judge of a court having unlimited jurisdiction in civil and criminal matters in some part of the Commonwealth or a court having jurisdiction in appeals from such a court; and
(b) the tribunal shall enquire into the matter and report on the facts thereof to the Governor and recommend to him whether the Chairman or, as the case may be, the Deputy Chairman ought to be removed under this section.

(7) A member of the Board other than the Chairman and the Deputy Chairman shall vacate his office if any circumstances arise that, if he were not such a member, would cause him to be disqualified to be designated as such.

(8) If the question of removing the Chairman or the Deputy Chairman has been referred to a tribunal under this section, the Governor, acting in his discretion, may suspend the Chairman or, as the case may be, the Deputy Chairman from the exercise of the functions of his office and any such suspension may at any time be revoked by the Governor, acting in his discretion, and shall in any case cease to have effect if the tribunal recommends to the Governor that the Chairman or, as the case may be, the Deputy Chairman should not be removed.

(9) If the office of Chairman is vacant or the Chairman is for any reason unable to exercise the functions of his office, then, until a person has been appointed to and has assumed the functions of that office or until the person holding that office has resumed those functions, as the case may be, they shall be exercised by the Deputy Chairman.

(10) If the office of Deputy Chairman is vacant or the Deputy Chairman is acting as Chairman under subsection (9) of this section or is for any other reason unable to exercise the functions of his office, the Governor, acting in his discretion, may appoint a person who is qualified to be appointed as Deputy Chairman to act as Deputy Chairman; and any person so appointed shall, subject to the provisions of subsections (3), (5) and (8) of this section, continue to act until a person has been appointed to and has assumed the functions of the office of Deputy Chairman or, as the case may be, until the person in whose place he is acting has resumed those functions.

(2) For the purpose of assisting the Government of Kenya and the Regions in the formulation and the implementation of land settlement schemes, the Board shall from time to time consult with the Central Settlement Committee established by paragraph 12 (2) of Schedule 5 of this Constitution as to the future exercise by the Board of its functions under subsection (1) (a) of this section.

(3) The Board shall be a body corporate with perpetual succession and power to sue and be sued and, subject to the provisions of this Chapter, to do all such things as bodies corporate may lawfully do.

(4) Without prejudice to the generality of subsection (3) of this section, the Board may do all things that appear to it to be incidental or supplementary to the carrying out of any of its duties under subsection (1) of this section or otherwise to be necessary or expedient for or in consequence of the carrying out of any of those duties.

(5) The areas to which this section applies are the areas which, on the 1st January 1956, were Scheduled Areas for the purposes of the Agriculture Ordinance 1955(a), and the expression "agricultural land" shall, for the purposes of this section, be construed as referring to all land which was on that date agricultural land for the purposes of that Ordinance.

Provided that—

(b) any decision of the Board shall require the support of a majority of all the members thereof.

181 (8) thereof (which relate to disqualification for election or appointment to certain offices) but this subsection shall not prevent the secondment of any public officer to act in the office of Secretary to the Board or in any office on the subordinate staff of the Board.

(4) The power to appoint persons to hold or act in the office of Secretary to the Board or in offices on the subordinate staff of the Board (including the power to confirm appointments), the power to exercise disciplinary control over persons holding or acting in such offices and the power to remove such persons from office shall vest in the Board but, before exercising any of its powers under this subsection, the Board shall consult the Public Service Commission of the Government of Kenya.

(4) The salary of the Chairman shall be prescribed by the Governor, acting in his discretion, and, together with his other terms of service (including allowances), shall not be altered to his disadvantage after his appointment.

(5) Where the salary or other terms of service of the Chairman depend upon his option, the salary or terms for which he opts shall, for the purposes of subsection (4) of this section, be deemed to be more advantageous to him than any others for which he might have opted.

and any such law may prescribe the manner in which and the conditions subject to which such setting apart shall be effected.

(8) Where a county council has set apart any area of land in pursuance of subsection (7) of this section, any rights, interests or other benefits in respect of that land that were previously vested in any tribe, group, family or individual under African customary law shall be extinguished.

(9) Where a county council has set apart any area of land in pursuance of subsection (7) of this section, it may, subject to any law, make grants or dispositions of any estate, interest or right in or over that land or any part of it to any person or authority for whose use and occupation it may be set apart in pursuance of the said subsection (7).

(10) No setting apart in pursuance of subsection (7) of this section shall have effect unless provision is made by the law under which the setting apart takes place for the prompt payment of full compensation to any resident of the area of land set apart who—

- (a) under the African customary law for the time being in force and applicable to the land, has any right to occupy any part thereof ; or
- (b) is, otherwise than in common with all other residents of the land, in some other way prejudicially affected by the setting apart.

(11) No right, interest or other benefit under African customary law shall have effect for the purposes of this section to the extent to which it is repugnant to any written law.

Provided that where the President of the Regional Assembly informs the Prime Minister that the land in question is occupied or is intended shortly to be occupied for the purposes of the Region, the Prime Minister shall not exercise his powers under this subsection except to the extent to which, in his opinion, he is strictly required so to do by the exigencies of the national interest.

(2) Where any estate, interest or right in or over land is acquired from a Region under the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, the Government of Kenya shall make prompt payment of full compensation therefor to that Region and the provisions of sections 6 (2) and 170 of this Constitution shall apply in relation to that payment of compensation and in relation to the adjudication of questions relating thereto as they apply in relation to those matters when property is compulsorily acquired from any person.

(3) Where the Prime Minister is satisfied that the use and occupation of any area of Trust land is required for any of the purposes specified in subsection (1) of this section, he may, after consultation with the President of the Regional Assembly of the Region in which the land is situated and with the county council in which the land is vested, give written notice to that county council that the land is required to be set apart for use and occupation for those purposes; the land shall then be set apart accordingly and, subject to the provisions of any law, there shall vest in the Governor on behalf of Her Majesty in right of the Government of Kenya or in such other person or authority referred to in the said subsection (1) as may from time to time be specified by written notice given by the Prime Minister to the county council such estates, interests or rights in or over that land or any part of it as may be so specified :

Provided that where the land in question or any part of it is already set apart under subsection (4) of this section or where the President of the Regional Assembly informs the Prime Minister that the land or any part of it is intended shortly to be set apart under that subsection, the Prime Minister shall not exercise his powers under this subsection except to the extent to which, in his opinion, he is strictly required so to do by the exigencies of the national interest.

(4) Where the President of the Regional Assembly of any Region is satisfied that the use and occupation of any area of Trust land is required for—

- (a) the purposes of the Region; or
- (b) the purposes of any body corporate established for public purposes by a law made by the Regional Assembly; or
- (c) the purpose of the extraction of common minerals,

he may, after consultation with the county council in which the land is vested, give written notice to that county council that the land is required to be set apart for use and occupation for those purposes; the land shall then be set apart accordingly and, subject to the provisions of any law, there shall vest in the Region or, as the case may be, in such body corporate referred to in paragraph (b) of this subsection or in such person or authority for the purpose referred to in paragraph (c) of this subsection as may from time to time be specified by written notice given by the President of the Regional Assembly to the county council such estates, interests or rights in or over that land or any part of it as may be so specified.

(5) Where land is required to be set apart under subsection (3) or subsection (4) of this section—

- (a) the Central Legislature, in the case of a setting apart under subsection (3) of this section, or a law made by the Regional Assembly of the Region, in the case of a setting apart under subsection (4) of this section, may prescribe the manner in which and the conditions subject to which such setting apart shall be effected;
- (b) subsection (8) of section 198 of this Constitution shall apply in relation to such setting apart as it applies in relation to a setting apart in pursuance of subsection (7) of that section; and
- (c) the Government of Kenya, in the case of a setting apart under subsection (3) of this section, or the Region, in the case of a setting apart under subsection (4) of this section, shall make prompt payment of full compensation for the setting apart to such persons as, under subsection (10) of the said section 198, are entitled to such compensation when land is set apart in pursuance of subsection (7) of that section.

(6) The provisions of subsections (3) and (4) of this section shall apply as well in relation to land that has already been set apart in pursuance of section 198 (7) of this Constitution as in relation to other land, and in such case a setting apart under this section shall extinguish any estate, interest or right in or over the land or any part thereof that may be vested in any person or authority in consequence of the setting apart in pursuance of the said section 198 (7)

but the provisions of section 6 of this Constitution shall apply in relation to any such setting apart under this section as if it were a compulsory acquisition by the Government of Kenya under a law made by the Central Legislature or, as the case may be, by the Region under a law made by the Regional Assembly of the estate, interest or right so extinguished.

(7) The provisions of subsection (3) of this section shall apply as well in relation to land that has already been set apart under subsection (4) thereof as in relation to other land, and in such case a setting apart under subsection (3) shall extinguish any estate, interest or right in or over the land or any part thereof that may be vested in the Region or any body corporate or any person or authority engaged in the extraction of minerals in consequence of a setting apart under subsection (4) but the provisions of section 6 of this Constitution (other than, in the case where the estate, interest or right is vested in the Region, paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (1) thereof) shall apply in relation to such setting apart under subsection (3) of this section as if it were a compulsory acquisition by the Government of Kenya under a law made by the Central Legislature of the estate, interest or right.

the Government of Kenya shall offer to release that estate, interest or right to the Region.

(2) Every offer made in pursuance of subsection (1) of this section shall be made in writing to the President of the Regional Assembly of the Region and shall be subject to the condition that the Region shall pay to the Government of Kenya the market value (at the date of the offer) of the estate, interest or right concerned.

(3) If, within six months from the receipt by the President of a Regional Assembly of an offer made in pursuance of subsection (1) of this section, he gives written notice to the Government of Kenya that the Region accepts the offer, the estate, interest or right concerned shall thereupon cease to be vested in the Governor and shall vest instead in the Region and the market value or such smaller sum as the parties may have agreed shall then become payable by the Region to the Government of Kenya, but if no such notice is given within the 6 months, the estate, interest or right shall, subject to the provisions of section 197 of this Constitution, remain vested in the Governor on behalf of Her Majesty in right of the Government of Kenya.

(4) Where the Prime Minister or the President of a Regional Assembly is satisfied that any land that has been set apart under subsection (3) or, as the case may be, subsection (4) of section 199 of this Constitution is no longer required for any of the purposes specified in subsection (1) or, as the case may be, subsection (4) of that section, the Prime Minister or the President of the Regional Assembly shall in writing so notify the county council in whose area of jurisdiction the land is situated and thereupon the setting apart shall cease to have effect and any estate, interest or right vested in any person or authority in consequence of the setting apart shall be extinguished and (without prejudice to the subsequent making of a further setting apart under any provision of this Chapter) the land shall again be held by the county council in accordance with the provisions of section 198 of this Constitution:

Provided that where any estate, interest or right that is vested in a person or authority other than the Government of Kenya, a Region, the East African Common Services Organization or any officer or authority of that Organization is extinguished in pursuance of this subsection, the provisions of section 6 of this Constitution (other than paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (1) thereof) shall apply in relation to that extinguishment as if it were a compulsory acquisition by the Government of Kenya under a law made by the Central Legislature or, as the case may be, by the Region under a law made by the Regional Assembly of the estate, interest or right so extinguished.

(5) Where any dispute arises between the Government of Kenya and any Region as to the market value of any estate, interest or right for the purposes of this section, either party may refer the question to the Supreme Court whose decision thereon shall not be subject to appeal; and the Chief Justice may make rules as to the practice and procedure of the Supreme Court in relation to any reference to it under this subsection.

201. (1) Where any person in whom there is vested an estate, interest or right in or over land dies intestate and without heirs, that estate, interest or right shall escheat—

205. (1) In this Part of this Chapter—

Interpretation.

“agricultural land” means—

- (a) all land in a Region that is not within the area of jurisdiction of any municipality or township or of any trading centre or market established under any law; and
- (b) all land in the Nairobi Area that is declared by or under a law made by the Central Legislature to be agricultural land for the purposes of this Part of this Chapter;

“land transaction” means any transaction in agricultural land described in paragraph (a), paragraph (b) or paragraph (c) of subsection (1) of section 208 of this Constitution; and

“the Region” means, in relation to a county council, a Divisional Board or any land, the Region in which that council or Board has jurisdiction or that land is situated.

(2) Where, in pursuance of section 192 (2) of this Constitution, some local government authority other than a county council is for the time being specified in relation to any area of land, references in this Part to this Chapter to a county council shall be construed as if they were references to the other local government authority that is so specified.

(3) This Part of this Chapter shall not apply in relation to any estates, interests or rights in or over land that, by reason of any condition or covenant in the title thereto or by reason of any limitation imposed by any law, are subject to the restriction that the land may not be used for agriculture or to the condition that the land shall be used for a non-agricultural purpose.

206. For the purposes of this Part of this Chapter, a county council shall, subject to the provisions of any law made under section 211 (1) (a) of this Constitution, divide the area within its jurisdiction into such two or more divisions as appear to the county council to be necessary or expedient for those purposes.

Establishment of divisions.

207. (1) There shall be for each division established under section 206 of this Constitution, a Divisional Land Control Board (in this Part of this Chapter referred to as a “Divisional Board”) which, subject to the provisions of a law made under section 211 (1) (b) of this Constitution, shall have jurisdiction over the division for the purposes of this Part of this Chapter and which shall be constituted in such manner and shall exercise such functions as are hereinafter specified.

(2) Each Divisional Board shall consist of such number of members appointed, elected or otherwise selected in such manner as, subject to the provisions of any law in that behalf made by the Regional Assembly of the Region, may be prescribed by the county council.

(3) Any provision prescribing the number and mode of appointment, election or selection of members of a Divisional Board shall be such as will ensure the result that more than one-half of the members of the Board are able to represent the interests of owners or occupiers of agricultural land within the division:

Provided that the question whether any provision ensures that result shall not be enquired into in any court.

(4) A law made by the Regional Assembly of the Region may prescribe the qualifications and disqualifications for appointment, election or selection of persons as members of a Divisional Board and the tenure of office of any member.

(5) A law made by the Regional Assembly of the Region may, subject to the provisions of this Part of this Chapter, prescribe the procedure of a Divisional Board, and, subject thereto, the procedure of any Divisional Board shall be such as the Board itself may determine.

(6) Subject to its rules of procedure, a Divisional Board may act notwithstanding any vacancy in its membership or the absence of any member and its proceedings shall not be invalidated by the presence or participation of any person not entitled to be present at or to participate in those proceedings:

Provided that any decision of a Board shall require the concurrence of a majority of all the members thereof.

unless the consent to such transaction of the Divisional Board in whose area of jurisdiction the land in question is situated (or which has jurisdiction by virtue of a law made under section 211 (1) (b) of this Constitution) has been given in accordance with the provisions of this Part of this Chapter; and every land transaction in respect of which such consent has not been given shall be absolutely void for all purposes.

(2) Any agreement to be a party to any land transaction shall be absolutely void for all purposes—

- (a) at the expiration of three months after the making of the agreement if application for consent has not been made within that time to the appropriate Divisional Board; or
- (b) if an application is made and refused, at the end of such time as may be prescribed by or under a law made by the Regional Assembly of the Region for the institution of an appeal from such refusal under section 210 of this Constitution, or, where such an appeal has been instituted, on the dismissal of the appeal.

(a) Revised Laws of Kenya 1962, c. 486.

(3) If any money or other valuable consideration has been paid in the course of any land transaction that is void under the provisions of this section or under any agreement that is or becomes void thereunder, that money or consideration shall be recoverable as a civil debt by the person who paid it from the person to whom it was paid.

(4) Nothing in this section shall apply to any succession to any estate, interest or right in or over land under the will or as a result of the intestacy of any person unless such succession involves a division of the land into a number of parcels held under separate titles.

(5) The provisions of this section shall be without prejudice to the powers vested by Part 1 of this Chapter in the Central Land Board or by Part 2 of this Chapter in the Government of Kenya, a Region or (in respect of Trust land) a county council.

209. (1) A Divisional Board shall consider any application made to it for consent to a land transaction and, subject to the provisions of any law made in pursuance of section 211 (2) (b) of this Constitution shall, in its absolute discretion, give or refuse its consent to that transaction:

(2) In the exercise of its functions under subsection (1) of this section, a Divisional Board shall, when appropriate, have regard to the effect which the grant or refusal of consent may have on the economic development of the land concerned or on the raising or lowering of the standards of good husbandry within the division and shall also take into consideration such other matters as may be prescribed by any law made by the Regional Assembly of the Region.

210. (1) Any person aggrieved by the refusal of a Divisional Board to give its consent to any transaction in land that is not situated in the areas to which section 188 of this Constitution applies may, within 30 days of such refusal, appeal in writing, stating the grounds of appeal, to the county council within whose area of jurisdiction the land concerned is situated, and the county council shall hear and determine the appeal.

(3) A county council or any committee thereof shall, in hearing and determining any appeal, take into consideration the matters mentioned in section 209 (2) of this Constitution.

(4) Any person aggrieved by the refusal of a Divisional Board to give its consent to any transaction in land that is situated in the areas to which section 188 of this Constitution applies may, within 30 days of such refusal, appeal in writing, stating the grounds of appeal, to the Appeals Tribunal appointed under this section, and the Appeals Tribunal shall hear and determine the appeal.

(5) The Appeals Tribunal shall consist of a Chairman, who shall be a person who is for the time being designated in that behalf by the Chief Justice from among persons who hold one of the specified qualifications and have held one or other of those qualifications for a total period of seven years, together with two Assessors one of whom shall be a person for the time being designated in that behalf by the President of the Regional Assembly of the Region in which the land concerned is situated and the other a person so designated by the Prime Minister:

Provided that so long as there is a Chairman of the Agricultural Appeals Tribunal established by section 193 of the Agriculture Ordinance(a), as that section was in force immediately before the coming into operation of this Constitution, he shall be the Chairman of the Tribunal appointed under this section.

(6) The Chairman of the Tribunal shall have regard to the advice given to him by the Assessors on any question raised in any appeal but he shall not be bound by such advice and the decision of the Tribunal on any appeal shall be that of the Chairman alone whether or not the Assessors or either of them concurs therein.

(7) In hearing and determining any appeal the Tribunal shall not uphold the refusal of consent save on agricultural or economic grounds and shall take into consideration the matters mentioned in section 209 (2) of this Constitution.

(8) In this section "the specified qualifications" means the professional qualifications specified by the Advocates Ordinance(b) (or by or under any law amending or replacing that Ordinance) one of which must be held by any person before he may apply under that Ordinance (or under any such law) to be admitted as an advocate in Kenya.

Provided that, where that area or the said part thereof consists of two or more separate areas not having a common boundary, the law made by the Regional Assembly may establish any one of those areas as a separate constituency.

Provided that nothing in this paragraph shall be construed as precluding the Central Legislature from making laws with respect to the provision of such services by the Government of Kenya or as affecting the exclusive executive authority of the Government of Kenya with respect to the implementation of such laws.

2. Agricultural Commodity Boards

(1) Where, for the purpose of restricting the production of any agricultural commodity in Kenya, provision is made by or under a law made by the Central Legislature for the determination of a national maximum in relation to that commodity (whether in terms of the amount of that commodity that is actually produced or in terms of the area of land given over to its production or in terms of the amount of that commodity for which a minimum price or a fixed price is guaranteed or in terms of the size or capacity of the plant used in processing that commodity or in any other way whatever), the function of dividing that maximum by allocating quotas to producers shall be performed by a Commodity Board established for that commodity in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph.

10. In the case of a bye-election, and subject to the provisions of paragraph 12 of this Schedule, the person who stands in the first place on the list shall be deemed to have been elected.

11. Where, by reason of an equality of votes between them, the number of candidates in any place on the list who would otherwise be deemed to have been elected under paragraph 9 of this Schedule exceeds the number of persons remaining to be elected as Specially Elected Members after the persons in the preceding places have been elected, none of the candidates in that place or in any succeeding place shall be deemed to have been elected and a further election shall be held to fill the vacancies still remaining among the Specially Elected Members; and the provisions of this Schedule shall apply in relation to that further election as if it were a general election where the total number of Specially Elected Members was equal to the number of vacancies still remaining to be filled.

12. Where, in a bye-election, two or more candidates equally receive the highest number of votes, no candidate shall be deemed to have been elected and a further bye-election shall be held, in accordance with the provisions of this Schedule, at which only those candidates who received the highest number of votes in the original bye-election may again stand as candidates.

13. Where the number of persons to be elected at a general election is not completed by reason of the fact that votes were cast for a smaller number of candidates than the number of persons to be so elected, a further election shall be held to fill the vacancies still remaining among the Specially Elected Members; and the provisions of this Schedule shall apply in relation to that further election as if it were a general election where the total number of Specially Elected Members was equal to the number of vacancies still remaining to be filled.
